This book provides possible explanations for problem behavior and a wealth of practical help for both teachers and parents to address them. Teachers learn how to create environmental supports and how to incorporate specific teaching strategies. Students with autism learn the new skills they might need, and ways of making their behavior more acceptable.
FAM RJ 506 .A94 M68 2002

Good tool to help children entering high school. Many specific scenarios about classroom interactions, and interventions to address challenges associated with the disorder.
FAM RJ 506 .A94 M95 2001

This guide for professionals working with students with autism spectrum conditions (ASCs) in further education meets the increasing demand for information and support on this subject. The author covers key areas and offers strategies and solutions for communicating effectively, helping students to manage transition, and understanding and minimising the causes of ASC behaviours as well as teaching social skills and ASC self-awareness.
FAM RJ 506 .A94 B74 2006

Written by an 11 year old with autism spectrum disorder who wanted her classmates to understand her world, things she found difficult, and what she really liked. Ideal for parents, teachers, support workers and caregivers.
FAM RJ 506 .A94 K6213 2006

This clear, practical and teacher-friendly book examines the causes and consequences of autism and other communication difficulties. Focusing on educational aspects, the book pays particular attention to issues teachers may encounter with speech, grammar, meaning, use of language and comprehension.
FAM RJ 506 .A94 F37 2006

Visual support aids can be highly effective tools for increasing levels of communication and independence in children with autism, who often have difficulty interpreting spoken language and non-verbal facial expressions.
FAM RJ 506 .A94 D9713 2007

Presents step-by-step lessons for practitioners, educators, and parents to implement with individuals with executive function deficits; includes data sheets, task analyses, worksheets, and visual aids.
FAM RJ 506 .A94 N35 2017
This book considers how individuals with Autism can be enabled to learn through specific approaches to teaching that draw together understandings of how such individuals think and learn, and the implications for those who aim to teach them. Both teachers and parents will benefit from the insights this book.
FAM RJ 506 .A94 H435 2000

Written especially for those dealing with autism and Asperger's Syndrome, this book also tackles important issues that will come up during your child's early school experience, such as developing social skills, addressing challenging behaviors, encouraging self-esteem, and dealing with teasing and bullying.
FAM RJ 506 .A94 M6 2003

The book offers a one-stop resource that enables school psychologists to coordinate efforts between students and parents as well as other educators, administrators, and social services providers to determine which interventions are likely to be most effective in meeting the unique needs of children with autism. It is designed as a practical, easy-to-use reference for school psychologists and other educational professionals.
FAM RJ 506 .A94 B76 2006

This book provides practical, hands-on strategies to teach social skills to children with high-functioning autism and Asperger Syndrome. It includes a detailed description of the social deficits of these children as they appear in the classroom - difficulties with such things as understanding idioms, taking turns in conversation, understanding and using tone of voice and body language and ways to address them.
FAM RJ 506 .A94 M69 2001

This much-needed resource unlocks the secrets of six critical teaching elements, including; creating an effective classroom environment; curriculum development; instructional strategies; managing problem behaviors; data collection and building collaborative teams.
FAM RJ 506 .A94 E76 2002

Simple strategies that work!: helpful hints for all educators of students with Asperger syndrome, high-functioning autism, and related disabilities / Myles, Brenda Smith -- Shawnee Mission, KA: Autism Asperger Publishing Co. 2006.
Children and adolescents with Asperger Syndrome and high-functioning autism have great potential, but all too often their abilities are not realized. This guide provides effective approaches and strategies that teachers can take to help their student with AS/HFA on the road to success. It also discusses problems that may arise in the inclusion classroom and how educators can make even small adjustments to accommodate their students with autism, while not interfering with standard classroom routines.

Hewitt promotes tried and tested initiatives to evaluate staff expectations, convey meaning in the classroom through alternative methods of communication, re-think the physical environment of pupils and celebrate achievement with rewards. With an abundance of cost- and time-effective management guidelines for teachers and support staff of affected pupils, this book facilitates a more inclusive school setting and stresses the importance of a consistent working approach both at school and home.
FAM RJ 506 .A94 H49 2005

By highlighting workable solutions to everyday problems, and emphasizing that teachers need to understand techniques and have the ability to adapt them to the situation that faces them, this book will be invaluable to all those involved in teaching children with ASDs.
FAM RJ 506 .A94 M32 2005
This book contains specific issues involved in toilet training children with autism. It includes easy-to-read bulleted lists with do's and don'ts, along with fifty real-life examples. It helps readers to learn how to gauge 'readiness' and overcome fear of the bathroom.
FAM RJ 506 .A94 W43 2004

Visual supports are particularly beneficial to people with autism because they help make abstract concepts concrete and capitalise on the user's inherent visual learning strengths. This book shows parents and educators how incorporating these aids while teaching can improve academic performance, behaviour, interaction with others, and self-help skills.
