On November 7th 1994, Philip Fairclough fell fifteen feet from a ladder onto a concrete patio. The impact caused massive trauma to his head and the subsequent brain damage he suffered has radically changed his life. At first unable to dress himself, cross roads on his own or tell the time, Philip underwent an intensive course of rehabilitation and occupational therapy, which slowly restored many of the lost skills that he had once taken for granted. His account tells of the hurdles he faced and overcame while in residence at a rehabilitation centre, the difficulties of readapting to family life, and finally the emergence of his new vocation as a writer.

Resources for Kids and Teens / Ressources pour les enfants et les adolescents

Ce livre se veut un outil pour vous aider à aborder avec votre enfant traumatisme crânien. Il peut être simplement lu et raconté comme une histoire bien que ce ne soit pas une histoire banale pour vous. Nous souhaitons également que le livre aide votre enfant à partager avec vous ce qu'il vit et qu'il ressente à mettre des mots sur sa réalité et à retrouver ses points de repère afin de se situer et d'évoluer.
